

Greg Proudfoot Plastering Ltd are committed to providing a safe and healthy environment for all personnel, contractors and visitors to the company's sites.

Management are committed to ensuring staff have an understanding of Health and Safety management relative to their position.

Management will:

- Comply with all relevant health and safety legislation, regulations, standards, codes of practice and guidelines.
- Ensure the identification and assessment of all hazards in the workplace.
- Systematically identify and manage risks for all significant hazards on all sites.
- Identify and communicate the risk and significant hazards specific to each site.
- Provide health & safety training appropriate to their role and supervision in the form of induction and ongoing employee representation.
- Provide staff and their representatives with the opportunity to be involved in safety activities including the hazard & risk management process and injury reduction objectives.
- Support and promote rehabilitation ensuring injured staff return to work safely as early as where possible.
- Promote a system of continuous improvement, including the annual review of policies and procedures.
- Ensure all workplace incidents/accidents will be accurately reported, recorded and investigated, and take action to prevent recurrence.
- Review health and safety management following a critical event, serious "near miss" or significant change in work practices.

Workers will:

- Actively contribute to safety activities including hazard identification, risk management and injury reduction processes.
- Participate in health and safety training and initiatives.
- Adopt and abide by safe work practices and procedures.
- Encourage others to be involved in health and safety.
- Report injuries promptly, accurately and participate in investigations.
- Participate in rehabilitation and return to work programmes.

Date: 01/02/2018

Greg Proudfoot
Director

Review Date: 01/01/2019